4 📍 14/04/2022 Soshanguve GP

A Cash-in-transit (CIT) truck was robbed of an unknown amount of money in Soshanguve. the robbery happened along Aubrey Matlakala Road, right outside Tshwane University of Technology (TUT) Soshanguve South campus. The CIT truck had gone to service at TUT but could not complete service due to load-shedding. The CIT driver and his two colleagues were on their way to another service point, they were raided by an unknown number of suspects. The suspects overpowered the cash delivery personnel and robbed one of them of his firearm. They used explosives to blast open the safe and got away with an unknown amount of money. The suspects fled the scene in two getaway cars, a white Nissan Almera and a Nissan Sentra.

The third getaway car, a Mercedes Benz, caught fire at the scene of the crime. In a video that was making rounds on social media, the suspects could be seen setting up explosives and bombing the CIT tuck. Money could be seen in the air soon after the explosion and the suspects were also seen picking up the money and putting it in bags.
