PROJECT:
IDENTITY THEFT,
MISREPRESENTATION,
MANIPULATION, DECEIT,
FRAUD AND THEFT
(PART 3)
IDENTITY THEFT BY POLICE IMPERSONATORS

"Specialised Security Services" warns against identity theft and the modus operandi of criminals extorting members of the public for financial gain.

Professional syndicates run these operations and they have increased exponentially in the past few years.

This necessitated a new and unique collaboration between "Specialised Security Services" and a specialist unit from the Hawks, in an attempt to curtail these crimes.

Listen to the following insightful interview by Mr Mike Bolhuis:

"Specialised Security Services" receives numerous new cases per month.

MODUS OPERANDI:

- Perpetrators steal profile pictures and identities of actual police officers.
- Some police officers have been the face of these extortion scams for years.
- This has been excruciatingly traumatic for the officers, their families and their colleagues.
- The syndicates send WhatsApp-messages to people pretending to be the police officers, harassing the victims in order to extort money from them.
- The scammers usually state that a case, usually of a sexual nature such as sexual harassment or rape, has been opened against the victim.
- The scammer then claims to be a police officer and demands money to help the victim get rid of the case.
- The police impersonators use the photos of real police officers (including retired and deceased officers) and copies of dockets and warrants of arrests, which they forward to the victims.
- The photos and documents used look legitimate and the victims immediately believe it is authentic and they pay the extortion money, thinking it will keep them out of jail.
- To threaten their victims even more, the scammers thoroughly investigate their victim's social media posts, the victim's family and friends and work colleagues.

- This threat of exposure pushes the victim to pay again and again, afraid of being revealed to wives, children, parents or colleagues.
 - The scammers are more successful when the victim is actually guilty in some manner, by:
 - Searching pornographic sites on the internet.
 - Visiting online escorts/escort agencies.
 - Visiting clandestine massage parlours.
 - Visiting escort agencies.
 - Picking up escorts alongside the road.
 - Some of the escorts work directly with the police impersonators and as soon as the victim leaves, they contact the perpetrators and give them the personal details of their customer.

RED FLAGS:

- Incorrect grammar in the communication of such WhatsApp messages, with many spelling errors.
 - The photos used are photo-shopped.
 - The moment the police impersonators ask for money for the case to disappear, it is extortion.

INFORMED DECISIONS:

Before giving anyone money, thorough vetting must always be done through identification of the scenario or crime, an evaluation, an investigation and a complete risk analysis. Unless you have unequivocally considered all of these aspects, you cannot make an informed decision.

EXTREMELY IMPORTANT: All potential clients need to be aware that owing to the nature of our work as specialist investigators there are people who have been caught on the wrong side of the law - who are trying to discredit me - Mike Bolhuis and my organisation Specialised Security Services - to get themselves off the hook.

This retaliation happens on social media and creates doubt about our integrity and ability. Doubt created on social media platforms is both unwarranted and untrue.

We strongly recommend that you make up your minds concerning me and our organisation only after considering all the factual information - to the exclusion of hearsay and assumptions.

Furthermore, you are welcome to address your concerns directly to me should you still be unsatisfied with your conclusions. While the internet provides a lot of valuable information, it is also a platform that distributes a lot of false information. The distribution of false information, fake news, slander and hate speech constitutes a crime that can be prosecuted by law. Your own research discretion and discernment are imperative when choosing what and what not to believe.

POPI ACT 4 of 2013 South Africa: Mike Bolhuis' "Specialised Security Services" falls under Section 6 of the act. Read more here: <https://mikebolhuis.co.za/popi-act-4-of-2013-section-6-mike-bolhuis/>

STANDARD RULES APPLY: Upon appointment, we require a formal mandate with detailed instructions. Please take note that should you not make use of our services – you may not under any circumstance use my name or the name of my organisation as a means to achieve whatever end.
